The Journal of Nuclear Medicine will consider original articles in the following areas: basic sciences, in vivo function studies, in vitro studies, radiouclide imaging clinical studies, and therapeutic applications of radionuclides with or without a medical condition. Reprints must be retained at the expense of the author. Articles must describe definitive and original studies which are completely documented by both references to the literature and description of the techniques used. Articles are accepted for publication on the condition that they are contributed exclusively to this journal. Authors alone are responsible for the technical accuracy of their manuscripts. All material submitted should follow the style outlined in the Style Manual for Authors available from the Society of Nuclear Medicine.

In addition to regular full-length articles, the Journal will consider manuscripts in the following areas:

Preliminary Notes communicating information about "works in progress." The text may not exceed 1,200 words. Authors may submit (a) two illustrations, (b) two tables, or (c) one table and one illustration. An additional 400 words of text may be submitted if no illustrations or tables are required.

Case Reports or brief clinical notes. More than one patient may be described if there are obvious similarities in their phenomena or reactions described. The requirements for length of a Case Report are the same as those of Preliminary Notes.

Concise Communications are short, definitive articles of completed research. They must not describe work that will be published in fuller detail later or be a portion of a study being reported in several short papers. Concise Communications must be submitted without errors and must conform exactly to the instructions for style of manuscripts. If accepted, they will be given more rapid publication than longer articles. Concise Communications must not exceed ten double-spaced typewritten pages including text, tables, figures, captions, and references. Each figure with its accompanying caption will be counted as one-half of a manuscript page.

Letters to the Editor are comments on material previously published in the Journal or personal opinions of limited but immediate interest in relation to the "state of the art.

In preparing manuscripts for submission, please note the following:

Manuscripts must be typed double spaced on one side of 8½ x 11-in. bond paper with at least 1-in. margin on each side. Each paragraph should be indented. The original with three copies must be provided.

Tables must be typed on separate sheets of bond paper, numbered consecutively with Arabic numerals, and have titles (in caps) centered. Make titles descriptive and provide headings for all columns. Omit vertical column headings under title and unit headings.

Illustrations must be submitted in photographic form (glossy prints) or as original ink drawings. Freehand lettering is not acceptable. Two sets of illustrations must be submitted. Labeling should be clear, set in initial caps and lower case. Poor-quality illustrations will be returned to the author to be redone because good quality illustrations are essential to clarity of presentation. Illustrations should be identified by a label pasted on the back (do not write on the back of photographs with pen or pencil) indicating number, author's name, and a descriptive title. The top of each illustration must be clearly marked. In the case of photomicrographs, the scale must be indicated. The illustrations will be reproduced as large as possible. The number of columns of text in a manuscript is limited to four.

References must be cited in the text by number (underlined) in parenthesis in order of appearance. A consecutive list according to reference number must be submitted on a separate page double-spaced. Literature references must be cited in the following order: name of author (last name first), then initials with no punctuation, cap and lower case, title of article (initial cap and lower case), name of periodical abbreviated and underlined for italic (J Natl Cancer Inst 1967 38(4):1031), name of book abbreviated (Mehta A, ed. Nuclear Medicine, New York: Churchill Livingstone, 1978), etc. Table and figure captions must be numbered in the same sequence as they appear in the text. Authors are required to supply the names of key persons to whom the manuscript should be acknowledged.

EDUCATIONAL MATERIALS: The instructor is responsible for the style of manuscripts. Authors are recommended to do their best in producing manuscripts that are concise, clear, and well-organized.
