information for authors

The Journal of Nuclear Medicine will consider original articles in the following areas: basic sciences, in vivo function studies, in vitro studies, radiopharmaceutical research, clinical studies, and therapeutic applications of radionuclides. The category in which an article is submitted must be marked at the top of each manuscript. Articles must describe definitive and original studies which are completely documented by both references and a detailed description of the techniques used. Authors are asked to submit manuscripts for publication on the condition that they are contributed exclusively to this journal. Authors are also responsible for the technical accuracy of their manuscripts. All material submitted should follow the style Manual for Authors available from the Society of Nuclear Medicine.

In addition to regular full-length articles, the Journal will consider manuscripts in the following areas:

Preliminary Notes communicating information about "works in progress." The text may not exceed 1,000 words. Authors may submit (a) two illustrations, (b) two tables, or (c) one table and one illustration. An additional 400 words of text may be submitted if no illustrations or tables are required.

Case Reports or brief clinical notes. More than one patient may be described if there are obvious similarities in the phenomena or reactions described. The requirements for length of a Case Report are the same as those of Preliminary Notes.

Concise Communications are short, definitive articles of completed research. They must not describe work that will be published in fuller detail later or be a portion of a study being reported in several short papers. Concise Communications must be submitted without errors and must conform exactly to the instructions for style of manuscripts. If accepted, they will be given more rapid publication than longer articles. Concise Communications must not exceed ten double-spaced typewritten pages including text, tables, figures, captions, and references. Each figure with its accompanying caption will be counted as one-half of a manuscript page.

Letters to the Editor are comments on material previously published in the Journal or personal opinions of limited but immediate interest in relation to the "state of the art."

In preparing manuscripts for submission, please note the following:

Manuscripts must be typed double spaced on one side of 8½ × 11-in. bond paper with at least 1-in. margins on each side. Each paragraph should be indented. The original with three copies must be provided.

Tables must be typed on separate sheets of bond paper, numbered consecutively with page numbers. Include both title and column headings. Make titles descriptive and provide headings for all columns. Omit vertical lines. Place horizontal lines under titles and under column headings.

Illustrations must be submitted in photographic form (glossy prints) or as original ink drawings. Freehand lettering is not acceptable. Two sets of illustrations must be submitted. Labeling should be submitted, set in initial case. Poor-quality illustrations will be returned to the author to be redrawn because good quality is essential for clarity of presentation. Illustrations should be identified by the author's name, figure number, and an abbreviated article title. The top of each figure must be clearly marked. Descriptive legends should be provided to make illustrations understandable without reference to text should be grouped on a separate sheet. In double-spaced. Authors will be charged $100 apiece for every illustration over four.

References must be cited by number (underlined) in parenthesis in order of appearance. A consecutive list according to reference number must be submitted on a separate page double-spaced. Literature references must be cited in the following order: name of author (last name first, then initial), volume number, page number (including pagination), article title, title of journal, edition number, page number, volume number, and page number. Up to three authors will be listed; one or more authors past the third will be designated "et al." Example: Swanson LA et al. Misinterpretation of lung scans in the diagnosis of pulmonary embolism. J Nucl Med 8: 345-362, 1967. For books, the order is the following: author's last name with initial(s); title of book underlined in caps and lower case, city of publisher, publisher, year of publication, page citation. Example: Berne E. Principles of Group Treatment. New York: Oxford University Press, 1966, p. 20. Chapters in books will be treated as journal articles with regard to capitalization.
